

SHADES OF BLUE

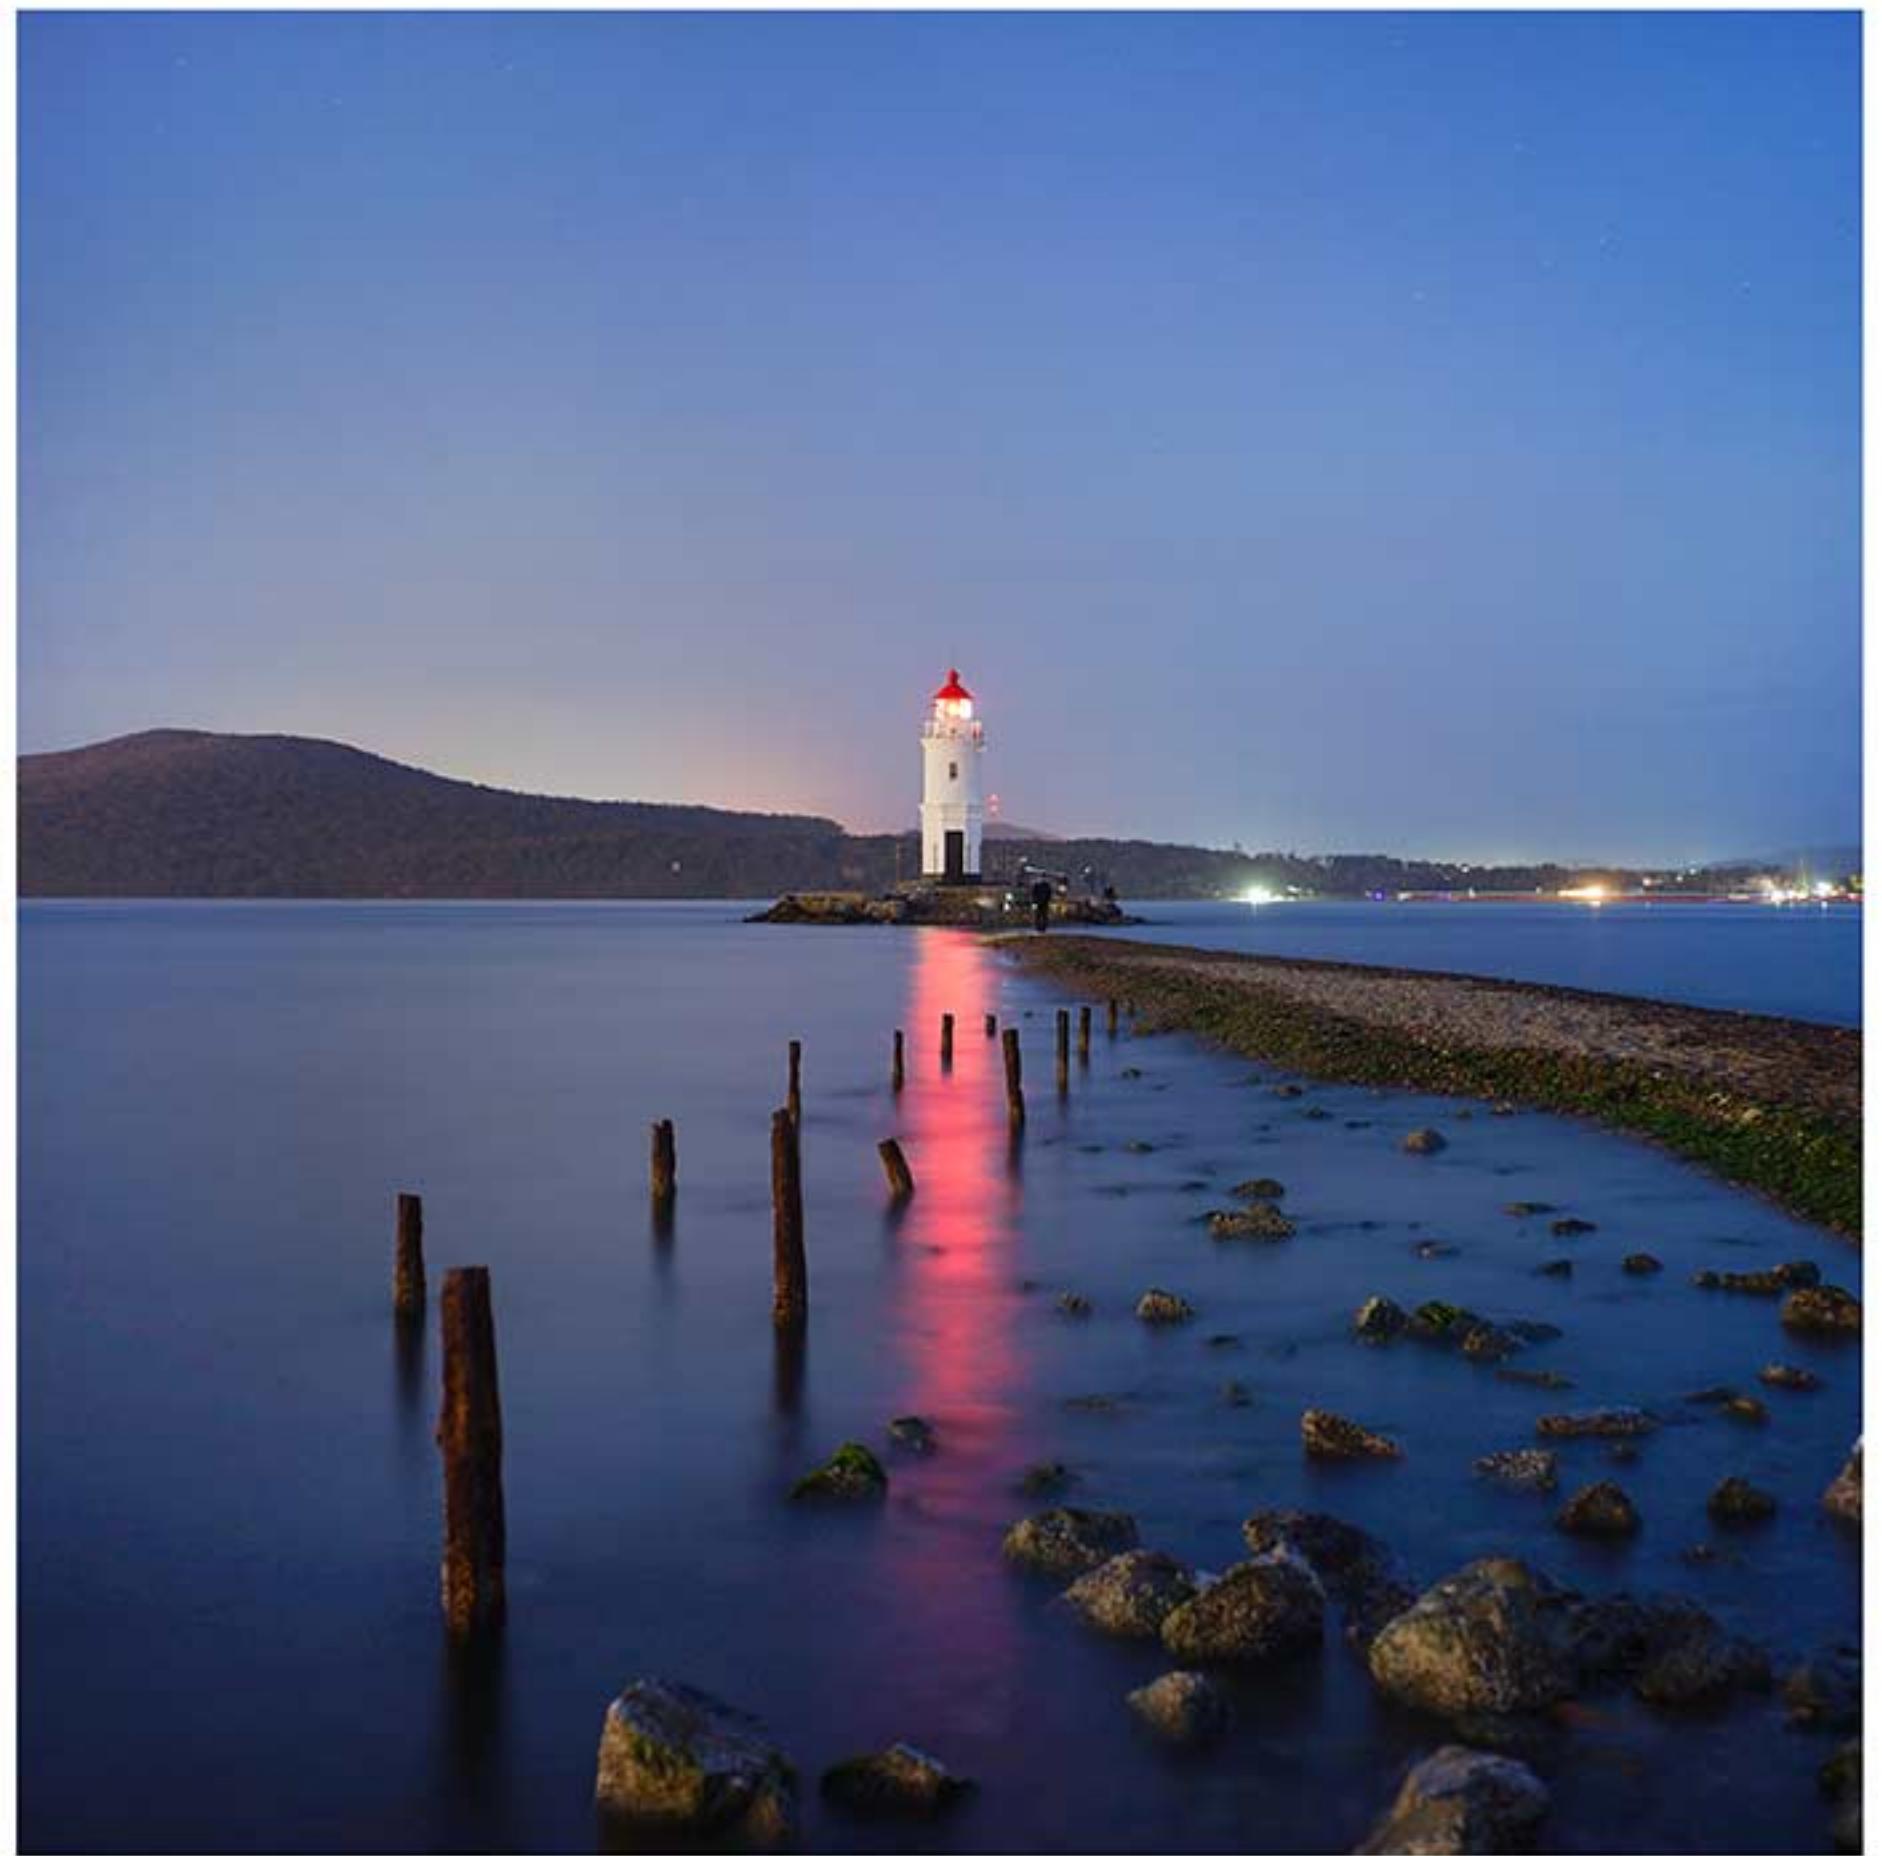

collection

This collection was made out of blue vintage fabric pieces, collected during trips to Japan, Korea and China and is inspired by ever so many shades of blue on the Sea of Japan.

Masha Lamzina presents her new collection inspired by the multitude of shades of blue of the sky and the sea. The collection features original cyanotype prints, patchwork, hand-bleaching with plants, appliqués, stamps, embroidery and quilting.

The collection was assembled over several years. Pieces of fabrics were brought in from various trips to Seoul, Tokyo and Harbin. The images and silhouettes were inspired by the traditional costumes of the indigenous people of the Far East and East Asia.

There are warm bonnets, protecting from the wind in a bad weather, upcycled from old scarves. Double-sided bags were assembled out of vintage cotton scraps and painstakingly quilted in traditional Asian patterns. Quilted "boro" jackets, unique pants with prints and many more. All this were made especially for you on the shore of the Sea of Japan!

The background for the photoshoot of the collection is made out of indigo-dyed and hand-bleached prints.
